Weebly (www.weebly.com) is a low-cost means of easily creating aesthetically pleasing web sites. Signing up for a Weebly account is very simple and easy to do—just need to supply an email address and a password.

Weebly walks new users through the process of creating a web site step-by-step, helping the new user organize thoughts into the basic pages and structure needed for the new web site.

There are many different themes and templates available, which can be customized by the user.

Web site domains can be left within the Weebly domain (<sitename>.weebly.com) or, for a small fee, can be purchased to a completely new domain (<sitename>.<ext>). Rates for a web site range from $0 (basic free web site) to $8/month (all features and premium services available).

In general:
